Svengoolie

We're closing out 2023 with an assortment of scary cinema offerings ranging from the 1930s into the 1960s — beginning with the film that actually was the basis for Vincent Price's House of Wax. It's early Technicolor terror when crippled artist Lionel Atwill opens his wax museum right when a horrible killer lurks through the city — and a brash reporter and her roommate (scream queen Fay Wray) get dipped in danger in Mystery of the Wax Museum. Be watching in this show for our yearly review of many of the folks who dressed as yours truly Svengoolie for Halloween! We follow that up with a Roger Corman encore — featuring a trio of big horror stars — Boris Karloff, Vincent Price, and Peter Lorre — along with a young Jack Nicholson and the enchanting Hazel Court — that pits masters of magic against in each other in a comedic vein: The Raven.

Then, it's a change of pace from another notable maker of fright films, William Castle — with Barbara Stanwyck becoming a widow, but feeling like her dead husband is haunting her, as she descends into a realm where dreams intersect with reality (or do they?) when she is visited by the Night Walker! Then, right before Christmas, we lighten the mood — a little... with Broderick Crawford and Hugh Herbert getting involved in the reading of a will, that could end with a kill (or two) — in an old dark house that is home to the Black Cat. This show will also include some of our past holiday bits, and one special festive feature with myself and our Sven Squad. Our final flick of 2023 is another Roger Corman creation involving the past lives of a shady young lady — facing the dangers of a sultry witch and the Devil himself in medieval times — with her only hope of survival being a time-traveling doctor (not THAT doctor!)

as they head for The Undead! It's a great collection of films with which to end the year, with our compliments!

The boat used as the S.S. Minnow in Gilligan's Isle was a 1964 Wheeler with cruising speed of 12 knots- which means they couldn't have traveled more than 41.5 miles.
Now I'm starting to doubt if the show was even real.
